

Released: December 1, 2010

OUR NEW WEBSITE IS OPEN AND READY FOR BUSINESS

Please visit www.anaheimartscouncil.com

Bright, vibrant, dynamic, informative - the place for arts to come together on the internet in Anaheim.

Here is you will find:

- ✓ Anaheim Arts Calendar
- ✓ Local arts news
- ✓ Wider Orange County arts news
- ✓ Public art information
- ✓ Scholarship and Grants info
- ✓ And much, much more.

The site is in its infancy. You are the people who will make it grow.

Arts Calendar: Member Organizations, Artists and Business Patrons may calendar all their events so everyone else know what's going on. The site provides links to all member organizations and their events.

News: Anybody may submit arts news for publication. Most news starts its life on the front page, but will also be found under various news categories, and eventually in the archives.

Display Advertising: We carry display advertising for our members. This will get prominent placement either on the front page or next to the news.

HOW DO I GET STARTED?

See the front page, top right. Create new membership here. The pages will guide you through the process.

When YOU get involved the site will GROW to be a major focus for arts information.

*Please do us a favor - spread the news about the new site. This document is available online.
See Downloads page*

Released: December 1, 2010

NOW FOR THE QUESTIONS!

What if I find bugs, have questions, need help, want to make suggestions?

Please use the last page, CONTACT US to get in touch. OR you may email Michael Buss at michael@anaheimartscouncil.com

What is the Back Office?

Once you are logged into the website you will be in the secure Back Office with a menu of special tools available for you. Here you can see the full directory of members and all Council documentation. Here you may manage your profile, enter Calendar Events and may email Board members. You'll also be able to make payments here (soon).

What plans do you have for the future?

This site has the basics. Soon we'll roll out more powerful features and add more content. It will also grow as we discover what people - you - are asking for.

Can I submit display advertising?

Yes - contact Michael. Soon you will be able to submit it online. We can also design display advertising for you for a small fee.

Can I make online payments?

Not just yet. We need to do more testing to make sure the process is completely watertight. In the meantime we will still take checks as usual.

Will there be an artist directory?

Yes, but it will take time to grow this as we contact more and more artists.

How do members post calendar events or display advertising?

Each organization has a representative on the Council. Either that member, or someone else in your organization, should be the person who knows how to log in and post calendar events.

How do non-members post calendar events? Easy. Become a member organization of the Arts Council for a small sum and then you may place as many calendar events or advertisements as you wish. This helps us grow; it helps you get your news out.

How may I submit news for publication?

At the moment, email it to michael@anaheimartscouncil.com But when we've got all our members set up properly we will roll out the way you can submit news in your Back Office area once you have logged into your account. We don't want to overwhelm you too soon!

Please share arts news with the whole community. If you hear news of something of general arts interest - email us, fast!!

Do you have a News Editor?

Not yet. But if you know someone who'd like to volunteer, let us know. This will be fun!

*Please do us a favor - spread the news about the new site. This document is available online.
See Downloads page*