President's Message

'The true work of art is but a shadow of the divine perfection'
 -Michelangelo

At the October General Meeting 'The Day of the Dead' program presented by the world renowned Peter Perez was stimulating, fun and informative. How wonderful it was to see some of you who attended releasing their inner child and creating such beautiful works of art in paper. I think you will agree that Peter was an engaging and passionate speaker and we learned so much about ourselves.

From our meeting we extended the meeting by sharing in the Gallery Opening where the exhibit of 'El Dia de los Muertos' were displayed. What a partnership! Next year let's plan on on us (AAC) creating an altar as part of this emotional celebration. As we remember our loved ones who have passed on. Thank you Cathy Glasgow, and Jan Branich who graciously provided the refreshments. It was an exhilarating evening.

The displays in the Downtown Community Center Gallery and the Community Altars in 203 Center Street Promenade will be open through the end of November. Be sure to take the time to view and add your own memories. Helen Carter and the AIPP committee have been busy taking pictures of the potential AIPP pieces and are planning a wonderful program for the awards. Be sure to invite a potential new member to the presentation, 5:30 PM, on November 4 – Anaheim City Council Chambers. We are pleased to announce that the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce has selected the Anaheim Arts Council to receive the 'Non-Profit of the Year Award'. We will share this award with YLA and receive the recognition on November 10th at Disney's Grand California at the Awards Luncheon. For more information on the event and the winners in other categories, visit www.anaheimchamber.org
